1. EXPLANATIONS OF THE TERMS USED IN THE AGREEMENT

- 1.1. Licensor Rīga Stradiņš University owner of the Intellectual Property;
- 1.2. Licensee the subject granted the right to use the Intellectual Property under this.
- 1.3. Intellectual Property intellectual property belonging to the Licensor know-how "Paraprobiotic Lactobacillus helveticus isolation technology". The end product of the technology is a new raw material – paraprobiotic Lactobacillus helveticus. The know-how "Paraprobiotic Lactobacillus helveticus isolation technology" is a sequence of specific processes – methodology and technology, as a result of which a new raw material – paraprobiotics Lactobacillus helveticus – can be isolated from the paraprobiotic Lactobacillus helveticus using laboratory equipment in laboratory conditions. Paraprobiotics are also called inactivated probiotics, which are non-viable microbial cells or unprocessed cell extracts, which, if used in an appropriate amount, give effect when used in potential different areas. Intellectual Property, inter alia, includes the following characterising and complementing information elements:

- 1) Paraprobiotics isolation technology protocol;
- 2) Microbiology analysis testing report;
- 3) Physical value analysis testing report.
- 4) Immune-modulating properties testing report;
- 1.4. Area of operation (licence) without restrictions. The Licensee shall independently assume responsibility for compliance of the use of Intellectual Property in certain countries or regions with the laws and regulations. The Licensee has the right to prohibit the use of Intellectual Property in certain countries or regions, if such use may harm the reputation of the Licensor (for example, countries unfriendly to official policy and position of the Republic of Latvia or countries in which sanctions, restrictions on cooperation or bans have been imposed in accordance with regulatory enactments binding upon the Republic of Latvia);
- 1.5. Product/Products products specific raw material paraprobiotic produced in accordance with know-how and the technology described therein, which, after they are produced, the Licensee either includes them in products produced, which it sells to earn income, or resells them to other buyers as a raw material thus earning income. The Licensee shall have the right to use the Product in accordance with the Agreement, including within the limits set out in Section 3 of the Agreement;
- 1.6. Licence Fee the fee paid by the Licensee to the Licensor for the acquisition and use of a licence in accordance with Section 5 of the Agreement.

2. SUBJECT-MATTER OF THE AGREEMENT

- 2.1. For the fee defined in the Agreement and for the period defined in the Agreement the Licensor provides the Licensee with an exclusive licence for using the Intellectual Property for the production, selling and other use in accordance with Section 3 of the Agreement in the territory of operation under the Agreement.
- 2.2. Under the Agreement, issuing of a licence shall not be considered alienation of the ownership of the Intellectual Property in favour of the Licensee.

3. SPECIFIC LIABILITIES OF USING THE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

3.1. The Licensor shall, in accordance with the actual possibilities, carry out support activities to promote more efficient economic use of the Intellectual Property and the Product, and more specifically – the Licensor, involving also the authors of the Intellectual Property, shall, within 6 (six) months from the entry into force of the Agreement, provide the Licensee with advisory support in the use of the Intellectual Property, including in the production of the Product. The scope of consultations shall be determined in the amount the Licensee needs, but no more than 16 (sixteen) hours per month, unless the Parties agree. More hours can be defined by a separate agreement with the Licensee and for payment.

- 3.2. The Licensee shall be entitled to use the Intellectual Property for the production, storage, use, import, export, integration into own new products and their sale, offer for sale, sale, and other release for economic circulation of the Product in the European Union. This includes also the right to implement procedural activities and other communication with supervisory, controlling or cooperation authorities to fulfil the requirements set in regulatory enactment.
- 3.3. Within the scope of the activities specified in Clause 3.2 of the Agreement, the Licensee shall independently assume responsibility for the implementation of the activities in accordance with regulatory enactments and assume responsibility towards third parties. The Licensee shall also be solely responsible for complying with the requirements set forth in the laws, regulations, the Agreement, and the descriptive documentation of the Intellectual Property with respect to the manufacture, storage, transportation, and other aspects of the Product to ensure that the full content, technical, functional and other characteristics and parameters of the Product are valid for the duration of the storage, use and sale of the Product and to take appropriate action if the Product still does not meet or no longer meets the requirements.
- 3.4. The Licensee shall not be entitled to transfer the Intellectual Property or individual elements thereof to third persons without the prior written consent of the Licensor. The Licensee shall not be entitled to issue sub-licences without the prior written consent of the Licensor.
- 3.5. The Licensee shall have the right to specify the Licensor as the author and owner of the Intellectual Property when dealing with the Intellectual Property. In this context, the Licensor shall have the right to require the configuration and coordination of the content and form of certain information to be made public.
- 3.6. The Licensor reserves the right to further use of the Intellectual Property for research purposes.

4. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION AND TRADE SECRET

- 4.1. All the information (written or oral, or in any other format) received and transferred under the Agreement shall be considered a trade secret and confidential information (hereinafter jointly referred to as Confidential Information), including any information about the Intellectual Property, including, but not limited to the information, which can be used to create a similar product.
- 4.2. For the purposes of the Agreement, information and materials that meet at least one of the following characteristics shall not be considered as non-disclosable information and materials:
 - a) the information or materials are generally known;
 - b) the information or materials, the obligation of disclosure of which arises from regulatory enactments and which are disclosed in accordance with the procedure provided for by the regulations enactments;

- c) the information characterising, explaining or justifying positive properties, functionality, uniqueness of the Intellectual Property and the Product (for example, to Product users, patients, customers, etc.), at the same time ensuring that no information is disclosed which may directly lead to the creation of similar products by third parties.
- 4.3. When deciding on handling the Confidential Information and when handling the Confidential Information, the Parties shall be bound by the norms of the Trade Secret Protection Law and other regulatory enactments, including the principle defined in the Civil Law that rights should be exercised and duties should be performed in good faith.
- 4.4. The Parties undertake not to disclose the Confidential Information to any third party, including during the term of the Agreement or after termination of the Agreement, subject to their liability under this Agreement for damages, including lost profits, and costs that the other Party may incur in connection with the undertaking set out in this clause. This shall not apply to the disclosure of necessary information to official state institutions to implement the functions and tasks defined for them in regulatory enactments.
- 4.5. The Licensee shall ensure that it enters into full and adequate confidentiality agreements with its employees or any other natural or legal persons who, in connection with the Licensee's rights under this Agreement, deal with the Intellectual Property, the manufacture of the Product, any type of use and the sale of the Product. Activities of the subjects shall be permitted and limited only in the context of fulfilment of liabilities under the Agreement.
- 4.6. The Parties undertake to store and protect the Confidential Information and observe reasonable preconditions for storage of information. In case of doubts relating to the Confidential Information, the Parties shall refrain from actions, unless the action is coordinated with the other Party. Having received objections of the other Party regarding handling of the Confidential Information, the Party shall stop the actions until the circumstances are jointly evaluated and a mutually agreed solution is reached. In such case, neither Party shall unreasonably impede the exercise by the other Party of its right to deal with the Confidential Information in a lawful and proper manner.
- 4.7. When terminating the Agreement for any reason, the Licensee shall immediately, but no later than within 7 (seven) days, with a mutually prepared statement return to the Licensor all the Confidential Information received from it in any form and shall destroy or delete all duplicates or copies of information stored in paper form or electronic form, or other from. When signing the statement, the Licensee shall certify and assume responsibility that it acted in accordance with this Clause and further access to or dealing with the Intellectual Property by the Licensee itself or third parties shall be excluded. Exceptions may be made to the extent that the Licensee can justify them, if they are based on mandatory requirements of laws and regulations or lawful requirements of official bodies. The obligation to exclude access to or dealing with the Intellectual Property by the Licensee itself or third parties shall attach to the Licensee upon termination of the Agreement, whether or not the statement referred to in this Clause has been signed;
- 4.8. If at least one of the Parties deems this necessary, the Parties shall sign acceptance and transfer certificates on the fact, scope, content, and other aspects of the Confidential Information transferred to the other Party.

- 4.9. The Parties shall also observe the rules of processing of personal data:
 - 4.9.1. If any documents or information are obtained within the scope of the Agreement which contain or may contain personal data of natural persons (hereinafter referred to as the Data), the Parties shall be entitled to process the data obtained from the other Party only for the purposes of ensuring the performance of the obligations under the Agreement, in line with the requirements set in applicable regulatory enactments for processing and protection of personal data. When processing the Data, each Party shall be responsible for ensuring the processing of the Data in accordance with provisions of the Agreement and regulatory enactments. Under the Agreement, each Party shall be obliged to implement relevant technical and organisational measures to ensure and be able to demonstrate that the Data are processed in accordance with the regulatory enactments regulating the processing of Data;
 - 4.9.2. When processing the Data, the Parties shall ensure that only authorised persons can access the technical resources used for the processing and protection of personal data (including access to personal data);
 - 4.9.3. If, under the Agreement, one Party transfers the Data to the other Party, the Party transferring the Data shall be responsible for the correctness of the transferred Data and shall have the right to transfer the Data to the other Party. A Party shall complete or rectify the Data, terminate the processing of data transferred by the respective Party or destroy them, if the transferred Data are incomplete, outdated, false, or processed illegally. The Parties undertake to store the Data received under the Agreement no longer than it is necessary for the purpose for which they were transferred, and after the goal set in the Agreement has been reached, they undertake to erase the received Data from their information systems as soon as possible;
 - 4.9.4. The Parties agree that if any of the Parties is held liable for a breach of personal data protection committed by the other Party, the guilty Party shall, to the extent it is responsible for the breach, compensate all the costs, payments, damage, expenses, or losses inflicted as a result of its activity or inactivity.
