

COST Action CA21152: Implementation Network Europe for Cancer Survivorship Care Workshop

Hybrid workshop covering two key areas:

- 1. Writing for publication
- 2. Updates and new frontiers in Psycho-Oncology

Wednesday 27th September 2023

10.00-16.00hrs (EET),

Riga Stradiņš University, Latvia and via zoom

This workshop is open to CA21152 COST Action members, early career investigators and students.

Agenda

Professors Josephine Hegarty and Habil. Dégi L. Csaba 10am-13.00	Writing for publication- the process and real-life experiences
Professor Maria Kerekla 14.00-15.00	Application of Acceptance and Commitment Therapy for cancer patients with a focus on using new technologies and digital interventions: over-view and lessons learnt from the process
Dr Johanna Czamanski-Cohen 15.00-16.00	Experience of completing a large intervention study with breast cancer survivors- getting the funding, planning the study, overcoming obstacles, managing the real-life experience of doing research and having a multinational team.
Professor Cristian Ochoa Arnedo	Assisting virtually for the workshop

For members of the CA21152 Cost Action, please communicate directly with skeane@ucc.ie regarding intentions to attend.

Individuals who are not members of the CA21152 are asked to follow these steps to attend the workshop online:

- Register on e-COST platform <https://e-services.cost.eu/user/registration/email>
- Once Registered please send an email to skeane@ucc.ie with your eCOST registered email address.
- From there an invite will be sent from the eCOST Action platform to you directly.
- Please accept this invite to indicate your attendance. An online video link will then be sent to you via email.

Thank you to Professor Guna Bērziņa, Riga Stradiņš University, Latvia and Ms Siobhan Keane, University College Cork, Ireland for assistance in organising this workshop.